Joseph Wagley

ABOUT

Since 1995 when he earned his real estate license, Joe has been helping people make themselves at home in Lenawee County and the surrounding communities. Joe has assisted hundreds of loyal residential and commercial clients in buying and selling properties. In doing so, he has earned their trust, enthusiastic recommendations and has graciously accepted their future referrals.

Joe went on to earn his Broker's License in 1998 and established The Wagley Group in 2007. His core belief is that every client deserves exceptional service and every transaction should be executed in full compliance with the highest professional standards. All agents at The Wagley Group are Realtors and therefore bound by the strict standards of the Realtor Code of Ethics.

Whether his clients are buying or selling property, Joe is fiercely dedicated to being on the leading edge of best practices and advanced strategies in the real estate industry. This ensures that his clients receive the information and advice they need so they can have confidence and peace of mind in knowing their real estate decisions are indeed the right ones for them. He acknowledges that every real estate transaction is important and often times a life transforming event.

Anyone who knows Joe recognizes he has the heart and soul of a true servant leader. As a former Adrian City Mayor and Commissioner, Joe's passion and love for the greater Adrian area has always been vibrant and strong. A lifelong resident of Adrian, Joe is excited for the future of his hometown, Lenawee County and the entire State of Michigan.
