ABOUT

Commercial real estate is not for everyone. It takes a certain individual, with the patience and perseverance, to maintain the necessary follow through, engage with the multiple contacts involved and pursue the continued education to keep you at the top of your game. Communication is key, and no one understands that better than me. As your Commercial Real Estate partner, we will work together to find the location, square footage, the traffic, and the customers you are seeking. Each transaction is unique, and that challenge is what I excel at. At BHHSNI, we have the resources and tools that will allow for a successful transaction, while handling all the details through one individual. As your Commercial partner, your goals are my goals. I look forward to working with you.
